ATLANTANS HONORED AT BANKERS' MEETING

McFadden, Strickland Are Named Secretary, Treasurer; Renewed Confidence Reported.

Members of the Atlanta delegation have returned from the annual convention of the Georgia Bankers' Association in Macon bearing a liberal share of the honors accorded and enthusiastic over the optimistic note that characterized reports of fellow bankers from all parts of the state.

Haynes McFadden returned to his home in Atlanta with the office of executive secretary voted him by the twenty-second consecutive year by the Georgia Bankers' Association. Mr. McFadden is editor of the Southern Banker and a well known authority on financial matters.

J. Freeman Strickland, special representative of the First National bank, was chosen treasurer of the state association at the Macon meeting. Mr. Strickland is one of the best known younger bankers of Georgia and a man who has been honored by the American Institute of Banking by being chosen as one of the 12 men composing its executive council.

The First National Bank of Atlanta also was represented at the Macon convention by J. Sherrard Kennedy, vice president. Both Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Strickland said that bankers from every section of Georgia attending the convention reported restored confidence and a better feeling, accompanied by decided improvement in trade. They were enthusiastic in their praise of Walter Harrison, of Savannah, new president of the state association, as a man of "dynamic personality, thoroughly qualified to cope with the banking problems of the day."

Old and New Subscribers Given Protection Against Accidents

In today's Constitution is an announcement whereby old and new subscribers can secure travel and pedestrian accident insurance either on the partial payment plan, which is 20 cents with application and 10 cents per month in addition to subscription price, or those who prefer can pay $1 in advance per year per policy in addition to the subscription price.

Every subscriber and members of his family need this insurance. Over $100,000 has already been paid out to subscribers during the last several years through the insurance feature offered by The Atlanta Constitution. "Accidents—Do they menace you? Read these headlines which appeared in the Atlanta papers during the last several months:

"Woman is killed; two hurt in accident."
"Youth near death in crossing crash."
"Atlanta fruit dealer is hurt in crash."

"Four persons injured when train hits auto."
"Two Atlantans dead, three badly hurt in auto accident."
You cannot afford to figure that you would not be claimed as a victim over the ever-growing wave of accidents. None of the persons injured in the accidents described in the above headlines dreamed that they would be maimed.

There is only one sensible thing to do: insure yourself and members of your family. Protect your income against abrupt halt and safeguard the future of those you love.

The Constitution offers you the famous travel and pedestrian accident insurance issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. This insurance is offered to members and independent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 66 on one subscription going into the home at the small registration fee of 20 cents with application and 10 cents per month thereafter in addition to the subscription price, or $1 each per policy per year in advance. The policy The Constitution offers you provides for payment of sums

DR. JOHN HOPKINS, 57, PASSES IN MIAMI, FLA.

Former Owner of 'Daugherty Mansion' Was Widely Known Here.

Dr. John R. Hopkins, 57, who made a considerable fortune in Atlanta out of the patent medicine business, and a former owner of the "Daugherty Mansion" at Peachtree and Baker, died Sunday in Miami, Fla.

Dr. Hopkins, well known in Atlanta, was a director of the old Fourth National bank, of Atlanta, and a deacon of the First Baptist church. He moved to Miami about six years ago. "Daugherty Mansion," built 30 years ago by D. H. Daugherty from plans drawn by J. W. Stoddard, New York architect, was bought by Dr. Hopkins from the Colonial Club shortly after its acquisition by the club from Daugherty.

Dr. Hopkins lived in the house for many years. The old mansion stood upon a bluff, facing Peachtree, and in latter years most of the ground was cut away from the lawn. The house was razed several years ago to make way for a filling station. The building was of Kentucky bluestone, and

Medal of Knight of St. Gregory Conferred on J. J. Haverty Here

In recognition of his special services for the Catholic church in Georgia, J. J. Haverty, prominent Atlanta layman and leading merchant, Sunday received the medal of a Knight of St. Gregory from Bishop Michael J. Hayes, of Savannah, at the Sacred Heart church.

Mr. Haverty was accompanied to the sanctuary by Jack J. Spalding, a Knight of St. Gregory. Sacred Heart now has the rare distinction of having two of its members holding the cherished medals. The honor was conferred by Pope Pius.

It contained exquisite hand carving work by Italians.
Dr. Hopkins' son, Russell Hopkins, died about 10 years ago.
Funeral arrangements had not been made Sunday night.

Members who died since the previous year's memorial exercises were: D. B. Adams, Joseph W. Burke, E. E. Gann, Dan W. Green, Forrest E. Johnston, W. E. Lomax and J. E. Ragsdale.

TENT MEETING OPENED BY EVANGELIST DENNIS

"God Hath Spoken" was the subject under which Evangelist James A. Dennis, of Union City, made his initial talk Sunday night at the tent meeting being held at Crow and Glen streets. A large crowd heard him, many occupying their automobiles which were parked near the tent.

"The Apostle Paul, in his Galatian letter, said 'Though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other doctrine than that which we have preached, let him be accursed,' and the purpose of this meeting is to strive earnestly to learn and preach the gospel which the apostles preached in the way they preached it," the evangelist told his audience. Several preachers attended the meeting.

The meeting, the evangelist said, would continue for two weeks, with preaching each night at 7:45 o'clock. The meeting is featured by congregational singing.

AND GEORGIA GETS NONE.

The comptroller of Florida reports that the treasury of that state is richer by more than $42,000 as the result of taxes on beer during the first two weeks of its sale.

That means, if the same average is maintained, that within a year's time approximately a million dollars will have been added to the state's income from a new source of revenue.

And yet Georgia, where there is just as much beer as there is in Florida, gets not a penny of revenue from its sale because the recent general assembly, mulling and mulling around in a long-horn stamper, went home without legalizing the sale of 3.2 per cent beer, as was done by the legislature of four of the five states surrounding Georgia.

If Florida, with less than half the population of Georgia, can receive a million dollars a year from the beer sale tax, twice as much could be expected to pour into the state treasury in Atlanta—money that would bring vitally needed relief to the school teachers, the pensioners and the inmates of the eleemosynary institutions who are dependent upon the state.

Fifty thousand speakies have already been driven out of business in states where beer has been legalized, according to Major Dalrymple, national prohibition director. In Georgia, just the opposite has happened, with 3.2 beer now being sold in thousands of business houses in open violation of the law.

The pity of it all is that the question is not whether Georgia shall or shall not have beer, but of whether it shall be sold legally or illegally. With a veritable torrent of beer pouring over our borders on every side, it will be utterly impossible to stop its sale.

The only difference between Florida and other states which have wisely legalized the sale of this harmless beverage, and Georgia, is that the treasuries of these other states will benefit from a new tax source, while here the bootleggers will multiply.

A VALUABLE INNOVATION.

The vital importance of the annual summer health roundup of pre-school children is emphasized by the results of the roundup completed in Atlanta a week or so ago.

These roundup physical examinations, at no cost to the parents, are for children to enter the kindergarten or first grade of school in the ensuing fall. They are for the purpose of ascertaining whether these youngsters who have never been to school are in good health, in order that their school progress shall not be retarded by ill health or lack of vitality.

Of the 1,257 boys and girls examined this spring, 800, or 63 per cent, were found to be defective in some way; 14 per cent were either under or overweight; the glands of 12 per cent were not performing properly; 27 per cent needed attention to the teeth; 33 per cent had diseased tonsils, and others were found to be suffering from numerous curable ailments.

The 18 medical examiners and 13 public health nurses who carried on these examinations gave a detailed report of each child's condition to its parents in order that during the months between now and school time remedial physical handicaps to their school progress could be eliminated under the direction of the family physician.

Certainly these roundups are the ounce of prevention that is far more valuable than a pound of cure in the treatment of these childish ailments in later years. They are one of the finest of the new and modern innovations in school life.

A POORLY LEARNED LESSON.

The necessity for such a peace treaty as that now under consideration by Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany leads the St. Louis Globe-Democrat to feel that "we may conjecture that future historians will be not a little interested in the state of troubled Europe, 13 years after the signing of the Versailles treaty, the most elaborate international instrument in all records."

In the last analysis, the present situation can be laid only to the failure of Europe to have learned the tragic lessons of the World War—that the slaughter of millions of lives, the waste of untold billions of dollars, and the steeping of the whole world in sorrow—brought no benefit of any nature to either victors or vanquished.

The most remarkable feature of the tense situation now existing in Europe is that it has developed along exactly the same lines as did the conditions which resulted in the start in 1914 of the conflagration which swept the greater majority of the earth's nations into the maw of war.

The World War was not spontaneous in its eruption. Rather, it was a logical result of the alignment, over a period of several years, of the nations of Europe into two hostile camps, ready at a moment's notice to jump at each other's throats.

It started with the Anglo-French military agreements of 1906, which were followed in 1907 by Anglo-Russian alliance following the annexation of Bosnia-Herzegovina by Austria. Then came the so-called "Agadir" crisis in 1911, when a German war vessel sailed into that port as a protest against French occupation of Morocco. Out of these and lesser developments came the entente and the alliance that touched off the explosion.

Now Europe is again formed into two great groups of bitterly antagonistic nations, with Germany, Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria demanding a revision of the treaty of Versailles and France, Poland, Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia insisting on the status quo. Italy is leaning towards the former group because of its alleged designs on the Dalmatian coast of Yugoslavia, while Great Britain, in a condition of fear and trembling, is frantically trying to bring about an agreement which would bar another outbreak such as that of 1914.

Behind it all now, as in 1914, lie economic ambitions and dissatisfaction over domain. France wants to strengthen her economic dominance on the continent, a situation which is entirely unsatisfactory to Germany. The latter country wants the Polish corridor back, and Poland arms to keep it.

Into this troubled condition England made a bold entry a few weeks ago by demanding that the strong nations of Europe get together to prevent war. Italy acquiesced, with Mussolini suggesting a peace pact plan which, in view of later modifications, was thought to have the approval of both France and Germany.

But there are indications that France is not ready to sign up—and so the European situation "4 years after" is as dynamic-laden as it was in 1914—and for the same reasons.

Let's see, now. The man who tries to collect from you is a blood-sucking tyrant, and the fellow who won't pay you is a damned rascal.

Considering the number of secretaries a statesman needs, this economic conference should at least bring relief to steamship lines.

It takes at least two to make exclusiveness enjoyable—one to be exclusive and one to be mad about it.

Village scandal concerning the much-envied prominent citizen: "And they say he's got three thousand in gold."

The best way to define national socialism is to wait and see what Hitler has thought up during the night.

You see, a tariff to keep out the product of pauper labor is useless now because we have that kind at home.

And now let's have a little help for the poor broke home-owner who would like to put a mortgage on his home.

Finance is puzzling, but a cheaper dollar must be good for us if Europe hates to see it cheapened.

THE WORLD'S WINNOR

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

One Against The Other

Political storms are sweeping the motion picture industry. The major ship bureau is busier than ever. One is inclined to believe that other considerations than those of a purely technical or moral character are responsible for the prohibition of an increasing number of films. Politics are mixed up in it, unquestionably. Perhaps started innocently enough. One country may have forbidden another country's films for moral reasons. The start of the trouble can no longer be traced. We have to content ourselves with registering this week's performance.

Germany has the film "Wooden Cossacks," a French film, after a successful run of 13 weeks, after 13 million German film fans have voted it the most impressive film of 1932. Its place has been taken by "Dawn," which portrays the action of German submarines against British shipping during the war and the film "Rebel," which shows the annihilation of a French army that is invading the Tyrol. "Wooden Cossacks," we might add, was an anti-war film. The other two, its substitutes, are of a contrary tendency. They celebrate war as a glorious pastime. Quite a nature. "Dawn" is a German film, "Rebel" is a French film. "What Do Men Know?" an Ufa film, which the censorship of Herr Hitler had pronounced utterly more objectionable than the other two. Our censors don't seem to think so.

By way of reply, Germany has "The Sign of the Cross," of Cecil de Mille. Italy has forbidden "The Girls in a Boat," moral reasons. Italy also does its utmost to have other countries bar "A Farewell to Arms," an American film, based on Ernest Hemingway's book of that name. The film is described as a violent anti-Italian. Surely, this cannot be said of the book. Hemingway described the reality of the defeat of Caporetto. One is not anti-Italian for that. One is not anti-French for saying that Napoleon was beaten at Waterloo. Holland forbids "The Face." Reasons: too much under-world scenery.

Films have tough times these days getting the approval of the various censors. The best thing to do in the circumstances seems for scenario writers to put out nothing but the most innocuous, nothing-say, silly, flabby, pusillanimous plots. If you are a woman, you do not want to see a picture of a woman who do the weeping and wailing for seemingly hard-driving liar-throws, who gallop to rescue the nearly-ravaged poor working girl.

That is the way of the world. The Great Plan.

For weeks the German press had been announcing that Herr Hitler would reveal his long-planned plan on May 1. At last the fatal day arrived and Herr Hitler spoke. Every German, he said, must learn to work. The best thing to do in the circumstances seems for scenario writers to put out nothing but the most innocuous, nothing-say, silly, flabby, pusillanimous plots. If you are a woman, you do not want to see a picture of a woman who do the weeping and wailing for seemingly hard-driving liar-throws, who gallop to rescue the nearly-ravaged poor working girl.

Next, Hitler said that Germany must bring about a synthesis between creative labor and capital. "When anybody can tell us that means," says the Temps, of Paris, "we'd like to talk of that again." And that is that. The rest of the speech was a rehash of former speeches—nothing original, nothing startling, nothing to show a way out, and nothing to show that the speaker was a man.

The same old diet of Nazi bombast. Germany may well say after this, like that English soldier said in Hollywood, "I have read me that, now I want me dinner!"

DAY BY DAY

In Georgia's History

Three years ago today a bill was passed providing for a monument to the Cherokee at New Echota, Georgia.

On May 30, 1873, Postmaster J. L. Dunning, of Atlanta, Ga., urged that the bill be passed, and to whom was the contract let?

For the two best 25-word original answers to the foregoing question, Loew's Grand theatre, co-operating with The Constitution, will award two pairs of guest tickets to see "Made on Broadway." Answers must be mailed to the Day-by-Day Editor, Constitution, and must bear a postmark not later than midnight tomorrow.

"Made on Broadway" is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, starring Robert Montgomery, Sally Eilers and Midge Evans. This picture started a week's run at the Grand Friday.

Today's winners: Marvin Byrd, 880 Tenth Avenue, S. W.; Mrs. G. T. Steen, 880 Tenth Avenue, S. W. Guess tickets are mailed to the winners each day.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

IODIN AS FOOD AND AS MEDICINE.

One of our customers complains: "I don't understand why you say one must be examined by a physician and follow his advice about taking iodine for . . . I have been taking your iodine for over a year and I have not been getting any better. I am turning gray and I certainly feel like a different person."

I suggest the iodine ration for everybody, man, woman or child. Iodine is food, as well as a food. It is essential to health. Any man, woman or child who does not get an adequate ration of iodine, in one way or another, is bound to suffer in health.

When I send instructions for taking an iodine ration, on receipt of your request accompanied with a stamped envelope bearing your correct address, I give explicit directions for taking iodine as a food.

When you have been on the ration for a while and believe you are deriving benefit from it, and then begin wondering whether more iodine wouldn't do more good or maybe cure your jitters or your rheumatism or something and decide to squander another dime writing to get my advice, my experiment, I tell you here that you have come to the wrong shop. This is not a long distance medical clinic.

Everybody needs a certain quantity of phosphorus and lime daily, in one form or another. Milk, eggs and vegetables contain the best form of these food elements. But anybody who contemplates taking phosphorus or lime as medicine would be wise to leave the question of the dosage to the judgment of his own physician. Certainly no physician who has not examined the individual patient can tell whether such medicine is needed.

You Can Hatch a Hawk Under a Hen, But You Can't Feed It Corn

By Robert Quillen

This is advice to people who have a genius in the family—or a near-genius with the temperament of an artist.

Let us assume that the freak is a boy, though genius is no respecter of sex.

He is smarter than other boys, and he knows it. He is conceited. Those who judge him by ordinary standards accuse him of swell-head and yearn to "take him down a peg or two."

But he can't be judged by ordinary standards, for he is a freak. Parents and friends who know their psychology will judge and treat him as a distinct and peculiar species.

He isn't a braggart or a show-off. He merely assumes that all who know him are interested in what he does, and shows them his good work to win their approval.

They will give it generally if they are wise, for he is the most sensitive of all earth's creatures. A word of praise inspires him to a frenzy of new effort; an ungenerous criticism cuts the solid earth from beneath his feet and drops him into the blackest depths of despair.

Being abnormally sensitive, he will wear criticism where none is spoken. If his legs are bowed and a proud and tactless parent calls his attention to the beautifully straight legs of an older brother, the taint will rankle in his heart for years.

If a normal youth wins a prize, those who love him can jest about it and pretend to believe that he cheated. He will understand and grin his appreciation.

But not the genius. He believes his prize and his heart will turn sick. It is no time for humor. He has earned praise and wants it.

That incessant demand for praise is the birthmark of the artist. It is no fault of his. His nature demands praise as plants demand sunshine.

Give it to him in generous portion and in due season he will lift the world to a higher notch, for that is his destiny and his high calling and he is qualified for the job.

Embellish him with taunts or discourage him with misunderstanding and he will take himself to the dogs and the devil.

If the gods have made you the parent or the friends of a genius, buck him up with a daily ration of praise as you hope for your daily bread.

It is a pity to let a rare and useful machine go early to the scrapheap for want of proper oiling.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 28.—Now that we have gone enthusiastic on having a change and buying but few things, the accessory departments of our various shops are doing a land laughing eye. It revealed a fluff of the same dress several days in succession, but so camouflaged and changed about that its own owner wouldn't recognize it.

The audience has gone linen mad, and navy blue black and brown, to say nothing of the favorite spring color, may be found in all sorts of combinations. The hats are cut raglan, small and severe. A black linen hat has a white organdie crown and is trimmed with bands of stitched linen.

If you happen to be a movie star like Adrienne Ames, whose husband is a very rich young man, you have a linen coat for every dress and then a small and severe. A black linen hat has a white organdie crown and is trimmed with bands of stitched linen.

When Alice Brady's gingham bathing suits have the girls in a dither, they are in such beautiful shades—gray with white, with a fine hairline of scarlet—white sandals—and a white turkish towel bathrobe.

There is a brown gingham one with a fine yellow hairline through it and a hairline of jade green. Jade green rubber sandals emphasize the Brady personality and mark this one of the most chic costumes to brighten the streets of Santa Monica in many a day.

Then Alice Brady wears white knit slacks where other girls wear white flannel ones—the knits are new, it seems, and are an end smash. They make you slimmer than slim about the waist and hips.

When you feel you've had enough of the heat, the best of the one of the amazing Alice Brady hats in rough cotton dyed tangerine or jade or lemon yellow to top the costume and to act as a portable umbrella beneath which you are safe from the solar rays.

When La Brady just wants to sit a while on the sands and relax she has some shorts that are like baby rompers in blue and white seersucker and very chic—very beautifully tailored and a brilliant yellow neckerchief.

Magicians Fool Fellow Wizards, Predict New Day for Legerdemain

BOSTON, May 28.—(UP)—Prophets of a new day foregathered here today, asked practically everyone to select a card, any card, and announced magic would sweep backgammon off the boards.

Flushed with success—they have discovered a new way to saw a woman in half—members of the Society of American Magicians attended their fifth annual national conference convinced that the dawn of a new day for an ageless art had arrived.

More than half the 2,000 members are professionals and the rest are amateurs, drawn from the ranks of business and the arts, who think it fun to fool their friends.

Bertram E. Adams, president of the Magicians' National Council, who sells fire engines for a living but makes half his income from lectures, believes magic is destined for a sudden rise in popularity. Before long, he thinks, everyone will try to be the life of the party by bewaring.

"I can get you a new hat," he said, absently palming the ace of spades, "are too cut and dried. If you've done one, you've done them all. Thousands of men have taken up golf as a hobby and what's the result? They have to go to a golf course to play golf. But magic can be done anywhere, in the living room, on the street, wherever you go. Here, I'll show you. Pick out a card—any card."

Adams' specialty is a lie detector. One speaks into a telephone and a clock-like indicator tells the audience whether the truth is being told or not. He calls it a scientific development in which the inflections of the speaker's voice are the actuating principle, but don't be fooled—that's part of his patter. He

INJURIES END LIFE OF DR. MCGLOTHLIN

President of Furman Succumbs to Hurts Received in Auto Wreck.

GASTONIA, N. C., May 28.—(AP) Dr. William Joseph McGlothlin, president of Furman University, Greenville, S. C., died in City hospital here today of injuries suffered in an automobile wreck May 16.

Death came at 9:25 a. m. after a previously the 63-year-old educator and Baptist leader had lapsed into unconsciousness.

With him when the end came were his sons, W. J. McGlothlin Jr. and James H. McGlothlin, brother, the Rev. James T. McGlothlin, of Nashville, Tenn., and a brother-in-law, Dr. William H. Williamson, of Charlotte. Mrs. McGlothlin was killed in the same wreck in which her husband was injured. At the time they were on their way to Washington to attend the Southern Baptist convention, of which Dr. McGlothlin was a past president.

Near here their automobile, driven by W. J. McGlothlin Jr., collided with that of E. A. McCann of Charlotte. McCann was fatally injured, dying a few hours after the wreck. Later today Dr. McGlothlin's body was removed to Greenville, where Mrs. McGlothlin was buried. Funeral plans had not been completed when the university head's body was taken from Gastonia.

Since 1919 Dr. McGlothlin had been president of Furman and for more than a quarter of a century had been identified with the affairs of the Baptist church as an educator, minister and author.

The monster audience gathered on Golzheim heath at the foot of the memorial to Schlager, a young German officer, who is now Nazi Germany's hero martyr.

Chancellor Hitler did not attend. Herr Goering paid a tribute to Schlager as "the last soldier of the World War and the last soldier of the third reich."

8 States Recorded In Favor of Repeal

WASHINGTON, May 28.—(AP)—The voters of eight sovereign states today stood recorded as overwhelmingly in favor of repealing the eighteenth amendment, while eight more states prepared to signify their feeling toward prohibition before the next month is out.

In Delaware a completed unofficial compilation showed a vote of 45,396 against 13,236 for candidates standing for repeal.

In Nevada the nearly completed tabulation indicated that not a single prohibitionist candidate would appear in the county conventions to be held next month, to oppose the 800 repeal delegates chosen.

CONGRESS OPENS 'STRETCH' DRIVE

Tariff Recommendations Slated to Come From White House This Week.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—(AP)—Pressed by the White House to adjourn by June 10, congress planned to speed disposition of the vast public works-industrial control-taxation and other important measures on President Roosevelt's emergency program before the deadline, two weeks hence.

The chief executive plans to send to Capitol Hill before the week-end the last of his emergency proposals—requesting powers to negotiate reciprocal tariffs. In addition, congressional leaders expect him to send a message reporting developments in his war debt discussions with foreign representatives, but not requesting legislation.

The controversial tariff question, piled on the already crowded calendar of both houses, may prolong the extra session to June 17 by reason of the opposition arising from the remainder of the Roosevelt program.

The house tomorrow tackles the administration's latest proposal, the Steagall-Fletcher bill cancelling the gold clause in all public and private contracts, and making the contracts payable in legal tender. Final action is not expected until Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the senate begins consideration of the much disputed and house approved independent offices supply bill, reducing expenditures for veterans by nearly half a billion dollars and giving the president power to cancel contractual obligations.

Hearings are to be resumed before the senate finance committee tomorrow on the $2,300,000,000 public works-industrial bill, with opponents to the Marland-Clapper oil industry control provision to have their say.

An attempt is to be made by Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, to have the $220,000,000 income and gasoline tax program in the bill supported by a general manufacturers sales levy, which failed in the house.

In the event Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, chairman, does not permit the finance committee to accept the sales levy, Reed plans to carry the fight to the senate floor.

House democratic leaders today planned to go ahead with the administration's railroad reorganization bill, amended yesterday by the senate, but suspended tacked onto it there fore shadowed trouble for this legislation.

After acting on the independent offices supply bill, the senate will take up the house approved $2,300,000,000 home mortgage refinancing bill. It plans to expedite action, also, on the "gold clause" and arms embargo resolutions. The latter was changed by the senate foreign relations committee to protect the neutrality of the United States in imposing embargoes on munitions and arms shipments to countries in conflict.

The Neapolitan song, "Funiculi Funicula" will be featured by Tito Guizar, Mexican tenor, when he presents another recital of Italian and Spanish melodies over WGST and the Columbia network at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon. Accompanying himself on the guitar, he will offer also the bolero, "Alejate Mujer" (Woman, Stay Away).

Theo Karle, tenor, will feature one of Woodford-Field's Indian love lyrics, "Kashmiri Song," during his recital over the WABC-Columbia chain and WGST from 5 to 5:15 o'clock this afternoon.

Spring carries the muse of melody to the outdoors when William O'Neal, tenor, opens his program with "Gypsy Fiddles" during his broadcast at 9:15 o'clock tonight over the WABC-Columbia network and WGST. His other selections, "We're Together Again" and "Hawthorne's Lullaby," will continue the mood.

Nat Shilkret's orchestral version of "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" and young Dana Suesse's "Jazz Nocturne" will be among the musical highlights of "An Evening in Paris," to be broadcast over the WABC-Columbia network and WGST from 7:30 to 8 o'clock tonight.

Howard Barlow will present a program of operetta and musical comedy selections, with Charles Carille and Mildred Rose as soloists, from 8:45 to 9:15 o'clock tonight over WGST and a nation-wide Columbia network. Works of Lehár, Hebert and Balfe will be featured.

Manufacturers hit industrial measure

WASHINGTON, May 28.—(AP)—An assertion that the administration's industrial recovery bill as it now stands would "retard rather than promote business recovery" today came from the National Association of Manufacturers.

James A. Emery, counsel for the association listing 50,000 manufacturers, announced initiation of a drive to change the measure when the senate finance committee hearings on the legislation are resumed tomorrow.

The announcement said, would suggest amendments to the industry control section of the bill.

PLANT IN ALABAMA TO RECALL 200 MEN

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., May 28.—(AP)—The Dallas Manufacturing Company announced today that beginning tomorrow morning 200 operatives would be added to the force at its cotton mills here. One hundred and fifty people were put to work a few weeks ago on a night shift, bringing the total force to 750.

Forest Army To Fight Subterranean Blazes

WASHINGTON, May 28.—(UP)—The emergency conservation corps has declared war on the subterranean fires which are constantly nibbling at the rich coal mines of the west.

Robert Fechner, director of the conservation work, announced tonight President Roosevelt had approved a plan to establish a camp of 200 men in the Little Thunder basin of Wyoming to battle fires such as the one that smolders in Colorado's Carbon mountain.

"Carbon mountain," Fechner said, "is only one of more than 100 fires which have been eating away at one of our natural resources for years."

Four years ago the federal government estimated 28 coal fires in the west had destroyed fuel worth $63,000,000.

Victim Recommended By Kidnaping Gang

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 28.—(AP)—A dubious compliment was paid Miss Mary McKelvey by her kidnapers.

Just before they released the daughter of the city manager today after collecting $30,000 ransom, the abductors praised the light-hearted fortitude she had exhibited. They told her, she said, that they would be glad to "recommend you as a victim to other kidnapers."

She said they asked for her card so they could have it in readiness to offer to other would-be kidnapers.

TREASURY BACKS GOLD CLAUSE BAN

Action Imperative in View of Approaching Financing, House Told.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—(AP)—The weight of the treasury department was thrown tonight behind the administration's proposal to do away with the gold clause in public and private contracts.

As democratic leaders planned to have the measure brought up in the house tomorrow, they received word from Dean Acheson, the new under-secretary of the treasury, that enactment was imperative in view of the department's plans for a huge financial operation probably in June.

The resolution, approved yesterday by the senate and house banking committees, was described by administration officials as clearing away all doubt as to whether any form of legal currency or coin may satisfy holders of government or private gold bonds.

About $2,000,000,000 of the government's $22,000,000,000 of indebtedness is to be refinanced. In view of the gold situation, the government does not desire to include in the new bonds the clause that the new bonds be payable in gold.

By executive order, gold metal and certificates have been impounded by the president, and it is unlawful for individuals to have more than $100 in the yellow metal or yellow-back certificates.

The treasury takes the view, according to members of the banking committee, that it would be useless to insert the gold clause into the new bonds, since the country "is off the gold standard, anyway."

CHILD FOUND DEAD IN RAILROAD YARD

BALTIMORE, May 28.—(AP)—The body of an unidentified girl about 10 years old was found lying in a railroad freight yard here late today.

Doctors who made a preliminary examination said the child had been dead about 12 hours and that there were no visible marks of injury. Police suggested the girl might have died at the hands of kidnappers, since no reports had been received of a lost child, and no one in the neighborhood near where the body was found appeared to know the girl.

Dispute Over Electric Light Bill Puts Marathon Into Receivership

Somewhat like the kingdom that was lost for want of a horseshoe nail, Atlanta's second marathon dance Sunday was staggering along under difficulties, sans musicians, sans most of its employees and with the gate receipts under control of a court receiver—all because of a dispute over an electric light bill.

A showdown of some kind is expected today. It may take the form of removal of the marathoners from Palms Peachtree to another hall, officials of the contest having searched Sunday for a suitable building.

Although the root of the discord between the landlord, Walter T. Candler, and the marathon management is said to rest in that troublesome electric light bill, possession of the hall has developed as the real bone of contention, Candler claiming that the management failed to renew its option for continued lease of the premises, and the marathon heads contending that they are entitled to undisturbed possession on the strength of rent money alleged to have been tendered and refused.

R. A. Edmondson Jr., attorney for Candler, said that the building owner Saturday offered to allow the tenant to remain on payment of last week's rent of $250, the rent for this week to be paid today. Officers having failed to serve a dispossession warrant on Ray Harkins, signer of the lease, resort was taken to receivership, and E. L. Sterne was appointed receiver by Judge John D. Humphries, it was said.

W. R. Bentley, attorney for the marathon, said that Candler refused to take proffered rent money on May

BRILLIANT DANCING FEATURES BENEFIT OF ATLANTA ELKS

Pupils of the Lola Menzies-Solomonoff School of Dancing presented a recital at the Paramount theater Sunday afternoon as the main program of the Elks' May Festival, put on by the local lodge as a benefit for the charity fund. In addition to the dance program a first-run picture, "Luxury Liner," was shown on the screen.

Mrs. Solomonoff (Lola Menzies) acted as mistress of ceremonies, introducing her pupils, boys and girls from the youngest—her own daughter, Betty Ann, just two and one-half years old—to clever young dancers in their early twenties.

Many beautiful ensemble members and a series of solo diversissements formed a delightful program, illustrative of the finest in terpsichore and true to every heritage of the dance. Mrs. Solomonoff is a teacher and dancer known internationally. As a dancer she was the premiere danseuse of all Europe for several years and as a teacher she is known everywhere for the thoroughness of her teaching and the perfect groundwork in the art which she instills in her pupils.

Perry Bechtel and his orchestra provided the music for the program as well as giving several orchestral numbers between sections of the dance program.

It was delightful entertainment throughout and should make Atlanta realize still further what a cultural asset the city possesses in this famous school of the dance. —RALPH T. JONES.

SPLENDID TALENT DISPLAYED BY BLIND IN BENEFIT CONCERT

The concert given by a group of Atlanta's blind artists, a benefit for the Georgia Association of Workers for the Blind, sponsored by the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, in the Fox theater Sunday afternoon, was a revelation to an audience of goodly number of the marvelous talent and accomplishments that are the possession of these artists robbed of their most important sense. It almost makes one feel as if a miracle were being witnessed to hear these artists perform, and those more fortunate of us feel great humility when we realize what these handicapped people can accomplish.

The artists for the afternoon were Paul Donohoo, pianist and accompanist; Henry Mullins, baritone; Miss Betty Higgenbotham, soprano; and Miss Ruby Waldrup, pianist. Mr. Donohoo and Miss Waldrup each won acclaim for their technique, their artistry and their perfect memory work. Each is a pianist of the first water, and their sensitiveness for sound was revealed in their lovely pianistic tone. The two singers, Mr. Mullins and Miss Higgenbotham, each portrayed their vocal artistry in two lovely voices finely developed and used with emotional feeling and good musicianship. Mr. Donohoo played exquisite accompaniments.

The concert was presented under the direction of Mrs. Mordock Walker, president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. James R. Little, chairman of the fine arts division of the federation, and Miss Nana Tucker, chairman of music for the organization. Prominent Atlanta men who aided in sponsoring the affair were ex-Governor Clifford Walker, William E. Arnold, Dr. Arthur Fort, Dr. Comer M. Woodward, Luther E. Allen, Russell T. Fay, J. P. McGrath, John Ashley Jones, Dr. Dunbar Roy, Ed L. Meyer, J. A. McCarty, L. D. Sharp, R. R. Otis, J. J. Childs and C. F. Palmer.

A secondary purpose of the recital, it was said, was to acquaint the public with the availability of blind talent for programs and concerts. —MOZELLE HORTON.

Georgia B'nai B'rith Council Organized at Meeting Here

First Annual Session Attended by 600 Jews; Louis Levitas, of Atlanta, Named President.

Organization of a Georgia B'nai B'rith council was perfected at the Ansley hotel roof Sunday afternoon when more than 600 Georgia Jews attended the first statewide B'nai B'rith conference ever held.

Louis J. Levitas, of Atlanta, was named president; G. M. Michael, of Athens, vice president; Leon Kletzky, of Atlanta, secretary, and Joseph Loewus, of Atlanta, treasurer. It was voted to hold a second conference next year at some city to be designated later.

Sunday's session was featured by addresses by Herbert H. Lehman, governor of New York; Paul Block, prominent newspaper publisher; Frank A. Constanter, president of Gate City Lodge No. 244, which sponsored the state meeting, and Richard E. Guststadt, director of special activities B'nai B'rith, Chicago, Ill.

Governor Lehman brought greetings from the New York B'nai B'rith, of which he is a member, and declared that there is a need for uniform determination among the Jews to render service in "the affairs of the state, nation and our own faith," this service to be rendered to those in need because of persecution or weakness.

Editor Block pleaded, for a united Jewish front, speaking on the Jewish situation in Europe, said that no militant or vindictive attitude should be combated by a united Jewish working along educational lines.

He asserted that the German situation has not been exaggerated but that an organized campaign of propaganda has been launched to popularize Hitler as the dictator of German affairs. "Organized propaganda is emanating from New York in an effort to popularize Hitler and his philosophy and to betray the American people into thinking that the revelations by American newspapermen and writers of international repute and prestige are merely the paid distortions of a subsidized American press," he said.

Speaking of negotiations between United States officials and leaders of the B'nai B'rith and the American Jewish committee, he said, "the leaders of the joint committee who are outstanding representatives of American Jewry have viewed with regret expressions of dissatisfaction over Washington's attitude. It has been recognized as the manifestation of an intense emotional pressure, but in view of the very friendly part played by the secretary of state, it is none the less regrettable."

Mr. Guststadt was introduced by Harry A. Alexander, of Atlanta. Others who were heard on the program during the day included: Rabbi Abraham Shusterman, of Athens; Louis J. Levitas, Harold Hirsch and Herbert

Chinese Continue Active Despite Truce Reports

PEIPING, May 28.—(AP)—Despite reports to the contrary in the foreign press, Chinese troops and police today continued in active control of the Peiping situation, the Japanese legation guards merely sending an occasional small patrol through the eastern section of the city where the majority of the Japanese population resides.

This action on the part of the Japanese, of which Colonel Mason Gulick, of the United States Marines, and other foreign legation guard commanders were notified in advance, was taken on the ground that it was necessary for the safety of Japanese nationals.

The United States Marines are also sending mounted patrols to reconnoiter the city as a routine measure.

EXPLORERS REPORT ISLE WHERE PEARLS ARE PLAYTHINGS

MIAMI, Fla., May 28.—(AP)—A tropical tribe that traded fancy spears for old shirts and another whose children wore big pearls as trinkets were visited in the Caribbean area by a scientific expedition of the New York Botanical Gardens, docked here after a seven-month cruise.

The unusual spears collected aboard the schooner White Cloud were obtained from the San Blas Indians. "We traded our old shirts for them," explained Captain William H. Smith, who skippered the expedition.

An "island of pearls" listed on mariners' charts as the Island of Margarita off the coast of Venezuela, was visited by the expedition. The pearl oyster is found in quantities in adjacent waters.

"We saw tiny children with fine pearls in their ears," said Captain Smith. "They seemed to hold the precious gems in little value."

Haas, of Atlanta; Rabbi I. E. Marcuson, of Macon; Rabbi F. L. Rosenthal, of Columbus; Rabbi David Marx, of Atlanta; Dr. Leon Banov, president of the fifth district, composed of six states and the District of Columbia, and others.

At noon a luncheon was served in the Ansley civic room and Edward M. Kahn presided. At this luncheon Simon H. Wender, an officer of the A. Z. A., junior of the B'nai B'rith for youths between 16 and 21 years of age, spoke on the work of the order and made a plea for organization of more A. Z. A. chapters in the state.

The executive committee of the newly organized Jewish body in the state was named Sunday afternoon as follows: Rabbi F. L. Rosenthal, of Columbus, chairman; Frank A. Constanter, of Atlanta; Rabbi I. E. Marcuson, of Macon; Herman Heyman, of Atlanta; A. L. Meyers, of Atlanta; I. J. Steinbach, Carrollton, and Dr. S. W. Rubin, of Macon.

U. S. SHAPES PLANS ON LONDON TALKS

Program Assuming Form as Delegates Prepare for Departure.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—(AP)—A definite American program for international action at the world economic conference took shape tonight as the delegation—still incomplete—packed trunks for the departure toward London Wednesday.

World developments, meanwhile, were gravely surveyed by Secretary Cordell Hull and his fellow officials, all of whom refrained from optimistic public predictions and privately conceded that plenty of hard work and headaches are ahead at London.

Besides seeking stabilized exchanges and universally lowered trade barriers at London, President Roosevelt's representatives will seek action to accomplish on a world-wide scale what is already under way here.

The United States will endeavor to enlist other nations in the bold price-raising program launched in this country by virtue of the Roosevelt monetary, farm relief and industrial recovery legislation.

Although there will be no attempt to dictate details of domestic measures to foreign governments, the Roosevelt policies are regarded here as requiring either unified international action or a new and highly significant policy of isolation in order that this country may work out its domestic plan without interference.

Brownlee and Lively Maintain High Standard in Dairy Product Output

DAIRY HAS SERVED MANY CUSTOMERS FOR TWO DECADES

Cleanliness, Purity and Wholesome Quality Are Major Factors in Production of Milk.

The importance of clean, pure, wholesome milk and butter in the diet of young and old alike is a factor which constantly rules the routine of the Brownlee and Lively Dairy, which supplies daily a large quantity of the dairy products consumed in Atlanta.

From cow to consumer, sweet and butter milk and butter produced by the Brownlee and Lively dairy is untouched by a human hand, being handled entirely by machinery of the most modern type available, thus insuring a high degree of safety and cleanliness.

Thousands of customers who have used Brownlee and Lively products exclusively for many years willingly testify to the beautiful qualities and the unerring high quality of the products served them during the years past.

Many Atlanta children of today are drinking the same pure milk which this popular dairy supplied for their mothers, in childhood, before them.

The dairy, considered one of the finest in this section, came into being 20 years ago under the proprietorship of W. J. Brownlee, recognized as among the outstanding dairy experts of the southeast. The proprietorship now includes W. W. Lively, son-in-law of Mr. Brownlee and a graduate husbandman with years of experience in dairying.

A visit to the dairy, located on a 50-acre tract on Briarcliff road, will provide a convincing proof of the sanitary conditions under which Brownlee and Lively milk is produced. Here the visitor will see the thoroughgoing methods employed and the constant precautions taken to insure sanitary production of dairy products, and will leave convinced of the consideration given by Brownlee and Lively to the health and happiness of its patrons.

Every safeguard is provided throughout the milk preparation processes to insure against the entry of harmful and dangerous bacteria.

The dairy herds at present are composed of 85 Holstein and Jersey cattle of the finest bred stock, 75 of which are being milked. Milk from these two distinct breeds, blended in the proper proportions, make the rich, pure and wholesome sweet milk which daily is being used to build strong, healthy bodies for hundreds and hundreds of Atlanta children and grown-ups.

Twice daily the herds are brought to the milking barns, where they first are thoroughly bathed beneath a special shower provided especially for that purpose. The teats then are cleaned with equal thoroughness, as what is known to the dairy fraternity as "B-K" solution, a powerful dairy bactericide with disinfectant, deodorant and antiseptic qualities.

All employees of Brownlee and Lively in any way connected with the handling of the dairy products are required to undergo periodical medical examinations, and must measure up to strict health standards. Thus, the patrons of this popular dairy are doubly assured of safeguard against contamination through careless handling.

In addition, all machinery and other equipment used in the handling of milk and other dairy products undergoes daily sterilization throughout. The bottles, after being thoroughly washed and degnosed, are sterilized inside and out, and steam is applied to obviate the presence of germs or other foreign living matter.

The milk, of which the herds produce from 150 to 170 gallons daily, is thoroughly chilled after being twice double-strained through a special need cloth. After further customary treatment of the dairy products are required to undergo periodical medical examinations, and must measure up to strict health standards.

Thus, the patrons of this popular dairy are doubly assured of safeguard against contamination through careless handling.

Modern Dairy Plant for Cleanliness of Production

Amid such sanitary scenes as those shown above, the Brownlee and Lively dairy produces much of the wholesome sweet milk consumed daily by Atlanta patrons. At the left, part of a day's milking is shown being twice double strained as it enters the modern chilling apparatus. In the center, the bottling and capping machine is shown in operation. To the right, the bottled milk—still untouched by human hands—rests for a short time in the refrigerated storage room as it waits delivery to the home consumer.

BEER INCREASES PRINTING DEMAND

Thos. F. Rybert Company Prepared To Handle Any Type of Needed Work.

Whenever a new occupation or business is created there is always an army of willing workers. The present 3.2 beer law, which is legal in most of the states, has created indirectly and directly more work for the printers, engravers and paper houses. Large orders for labels and stickers and general printing have been created and in many instances printing shops are putting in extra time.

The Thos. F. Rybert Printing Company is not a new concern—it has been serving Atlanta for 25 years and can boast the fact that many of its first customers are still satisfied patrons.

This modern printing establishment is located at 311-313 Edgewood avenue and is amply equipped to render this same satisfying service to more Atlanta concerns.

The progressiveness of this firm is made keenly noticeable by its sound advertising program through the daily newspaper and personal contact. "Labels, stationery, circulars, briefs and a general line of job printing at a saving to business concerns" is its motto.

The Thos. F. Rybert Printing Company is one of the few complete printing establishments in Atlanta. With its ruling and binding equipment it manufactures loose-leaf devices, blank books, cash books, journals, etc.

A. S. Rasbridge, vice president, render their personal services and invite you to call on either of them for printing estimates. Of course no obligation is attached to their suggestions, but many a dollar has been saved by dealing with these competent printers.

Shipments of automobile springs by the Reynolds' Spring Company, Chicago, this month will be the largest of any month since 1929, President Charles G. Munn announces.

Edward A. Desch, chairman of the National Cash Register Co., states the company is experiencing a demand it is placed in the bottling machine, designed to bottle milk gallons at a time. After bottling it is placed in a specially refrigerated storage room, where it is kept until time of delivery.

Every type of modern dairy machinery is employed by Brownlee and Lively in the handling of its milk, from the time of milking until it is delivered by truck to the household customer. Patrons and prospective customers alike are invited at any time to visit and inspect the plant.

Officials of the Union Colliery Co. announce its Dowell mine at Duquoin, Ill., will resume operations before June 1 with a working force of about 500.

Tonnage sales of General Foods Corporation for the first three weeks of May exceeded those for the entire month last year, President C. M. Chester said today.

Because of increased employment in the Calumet steel region, 2,203 families recently have been removed from township indigent rolls in Lake county, Indiana, authorities state.

The American Austin Car Co. has increased its hourly wage rate 15 per cent and announced an increase of $10 a car in retail prices.

New Paper Stock Provides Entirely Opaque Envelope

Atlanta Concern Introduces Two-Color Development Designed Especially for Confidential Business Uses.

What appears to be one of the greatest developments in envelopes in several years was announced yesterday by S. Guthman, president of the Atlanta Envelope Company, well-known Atlanta concern, located at 505-11 Stewart avenue, S. W.

"Through the development of a new type of paper stock," said Mr. Guthman, "we now are able to offer our customers an envelope that is entirely opaque. It is absolutely impossible to read any enclosure through one of these new envelopes. Such opacity is the result of a two-colored paper."

On the outside it is a brilliant white, but on the inside it is a dark blue. As well as adding invisibility to the envelope, this inside color lends dignity, resembling a fine personal correspondence envelope with lining.

This new paper is well fitted for a number of uses. Check envelopes, for example, statements, and other subjects of a distinctly personal nature that are easily read through the envelopes, are well adapted to it. Envelopes may be made either with or without windows, in the regular first-class or postage-saver styles.

Still another feature favoring envelopes made with this paper is their unusual strength. They will withstand rough handling considerably better than the average paper stock used for envelopes. The cost is very reasonable and is little more than other quality sheets.

"We, of course, do not carry envelopes made from this new paper in stock," Mr. Guthman added, "because all our envelopes are made to order, but we can supply them in as little as 24 hours when the occasion demands."

Dividend meetings are scheduled for the coming week by directors of Auburn automobile, Pacific Telephone & Telegraph and Reynolds Tobacco among others.

Wall street gets a holiday on Tuesday, Memorial Day. Security and commodity markets will be closed, in accordance with long-standing custom.

New state and municipal financing scheduled for this week totals $18,572,334, says the Daily Bond Buyer. The largest item is a $10,000,000 City of Philadelphia 5-per cent 20-30-year loan, scheduled for Friday.

Shipments of automobile springs by the Reynolds' Spring Company, Chicago, this month will be the largest of any month since 1929, President Charles G. Munn announces.

Edward A. Desch, chairman of the National Cash Register Co., states the company is experiencing a demand it is placed in the bottling machine, designed to bottle milk gallons at a time. After bottling it is placed in a specially refrigerated storage room, where it is kept until time of delivery.

Every type of modern dairy machinery is employed by Brownlee and Lively in the handling of its milk, from the time of milking until it is delivered by truck to the household customer. Patrons and prospective customers alike are invited at any time to visit and inspect the plant.

Officials of the Union Colliery Co. announce its Dowell mine at Duquoin, Ill., will resume operations before June 1 with a working force of about 500.

Tonnage sales of General Foods Corporation for the first three weeks of May exceeded those for the entire month last year, President C. M. Chester said today.

PHENOMENAL GAIN MADE BY COTTON AT CLOSE OF WEEK

Gold Standard Movement Before Congress Inspires Staple's Rise to New Season High Levels.

NEW ORLEANS, May 28.—(AP)—After a period of erratic price fluctuations in early week, the cotton market turned sharply upward in the final two days of trading and made new high levels for the season fully 100 points above the lowest levels of early week and 91 points above the close of the preceding week. Trading was active all week, but especially so on the concluding days.

The sharp advance in price which started late in Friday's session was due to the government's stand in advising congress to go off the gold standard officially and to all present intents and purposes permanently. This development caused stocks and commodities to advance sharply and greatly stimulated the foreign cotton markets owing to the regulating effect of the American currency action on foreign currencies in terms of the dollar.

During the greater part of the week, any tendency to advance was held in check by the more favorable weather in the cotton region. Texas dry conditions were relieved by good rains, fair weather in the central belt greatly facilitated cultivation and the crop made generally favorable progress.

On the other hand the market was supported by favorable reports of activity in the cotton goods markets and the large increase in mill takings of raw cotton. The mills were reported to be very active with liberal orders ahead pointing to increased consumption for the balance of the season.

There continued to be a good demand for spots from domestic mills and interior holders of cotton have been very firm in their views. The export demand has been very moderate, however, but traders believe that the stimulating effect of the going off the gold standard on foreign currencies will soon stimulate the demand from abroad.

Exports for the week have been fair, comparing favorably with the corresponding week last year.

PRICES LEAP FORWARD IN LATE WEEK TRADING
NEW YORK, May 28.—(AP)—Cotton renewed its bullish spurt last week. Prices bounded forward sharply in the Friday and Saturday "inflation markets" and ended the week from $4.40 to $4.50 a bale above the level of May 20.

Up to midweek the market was in the grip of reactionary influences. It was said that trade buying was less active and speculative interest was showing a general inclination to lighten their long contracts.

The trend turned on Wednesday with a general quickening of the inflation pulse on the disclosure that the federal reserve system had purchased a considerable volume of United States government bonds.

Apart from currency and gold developments, reports of a continued active business in the cotton goods market, at advancing prices, were factors of no small importance in bringing the market out of its reactionary mood.

Gains reported in general business and suggestions that the administration of Roosevelt's program was putting 274,000 jobless men in forest work had passed the half-way mark.

Robert Fechner, director of the emergency conservation work, reported to the White House that one-half that number were in either forest work or conditioning camps, he said Saturday's midnight enrollment reached approximately 150,000.

Business in the cotton goods market, according to reports from Worth street, involved some large sales, with buyers showing a disposition to withdraw even in the face of declining raw cotton prices early in the week.

Some trade interests said that demand for goods, while backed primarily on the inflation movement, was not unrelated to a belief that higher prices would result from the expected adjustment of operatives' working schedule.

Quotations for 64x60's 38 1-2 inch print cloths closed the week at 5 1-2 cents a yard compared with 4 5-8 at the close of the previous week; 30 squares 38-inch were listed at 7 1-4 cents against 6 1-4 to 6 3-8 the week before.

Zoo Animals, Household Pets Thrive on Goat's Milk Diet

The picture above shows not one of the Westwyndes Goat Dairy's main herd, but one of the small brothers of the fine Nubian milk does which daily supply goat's milk to Atlanta consumers. This animal is a pet on the Westwyndes farm and, like his brothers, is segregated from the milk producing does.

Goat's milk has been found to supply a chemical factor of vital importance not only in the diet of humans but in that of animals, according to the proprietors of the Westwyndes Goat Dairy, at Chamblee.

Westwyndes, besides supplying Grade A goat milk for both children and adults, has found a new market for goat's milk among the dog kennels and zoos, where great difficulty is experienced in trying to raise animals out of their natural environment.

In California, for years, many ranches specializing in the raising of wild animals have fed the young on goat's milk because of its alkaline reaction and easily digestible qualities. It is the nearest natural food to the mother's milk, consequently the baby animal as well as the human baby thrive upon it.

Westwyndes recently supplied one of the local dog kennels with a daily supply of goat's milk as a special diet for a litter of very fine but undernourished bird dogs and their mother, none of which were expected to live. After two weeks of goat's milk feeding, all were so much improved in condition that casual visitors to the kennels did not recognize them as the same dogs which began the diet a fortnight previous.

Recently, in one of the local private zoos, a pair of young were born to a mother animal from a distant land. One died almost immediately after birth, and the other was fast nearing death when a diet of goat's milk was instituted after many other foods and milks had failed. Goat's milk quickly brought the baby around and today it is thriving on this nourishing food-drink.

So if you have a pet which needs nourishment, try Westwyndes goat's milk. The results will be surprising. Westwyndes Goat Dairy owns one of the finest herds of Nubian milk goats in this section, grazed and housed in one of the finest and most modern plants of its kind in the country.

Every goat in the herd is tested for tuberculosis and abortive fever, and every requirement of the health department of Atlanta is complied with. Westwyndes operates a Grade A dairy, which insures clean, wholesome milk.

Many persons who adhere to the idea that goat's milk has a rank, goatly flavor will be agreeably surprised to find it has, instead, a sweet, rich cream taste.

The proprietors of Westwyndes urge the skeptical to drop in at Jacobs' drug store at Five points and order a glass, a pint or a quart at the soda fountain, or to telephone (reverse the charges) Chamblee 3186 (long distance) and place an order for daily delivery. In the latter case, Manager Tye will gladly supply any person with information about the splendid nutritive value of goat's milk.

STEADY ADVANCEMENT IS NOTED BY TEXTILES
NEW YORK, May 28.—The textile industry has led all others in the maintenance of employment during the depression period. Amid all this year's business problems its manufacturers have gone steadily ahead in production and sale of goods. Increased unemployment would have resulted through the pursuance of any other course. Provisions must obviously be made in the administration's plans for safeguarding the textile industry against loss because of future delivery commitments courageously undertaken in the face of the legislative potentialities involved. The unfairness of any penalization of business initiative and courage which have insured continuity of employment to such vast numbers of workers need not even be argued.

The week in the market has been extremely active, with prices continually advancing. The end of the week has found goods generally withdrawn because of the obvious uncertainties of the Washington situation during the next few days. In Southeastern substantial sales have been made by all departments. Current quotations are difficult because of present withdrawals from sale. Southeastern Cottons, Inc.

BUSINESS SPURTS, WAGES ARE RAISED AS PRICES ADVANCE

Employment Gains Noted in Varied Lines; Steel, Power, Retail Trade Lead in Upturn.

By HIRAM HERTELL.
NEW YORK, May 28.—(AP)—Striding forward with more confidence, business again advanced during the past week.

Spurred by the administration's program for raising prices, most lines of productive and distributive activity showed improvement, and at some points manufacturers have begun to raise wage scales.

An increase in employment was reported especially from those centers devoted to the production of steel and allied products, automobiles, textiles, rubber goods, shoes and leather, lumber, and the brewing supply industry.

Steel output, electric power production and retail trade were among the stellar performers during the past week in the country's favorite drama, better business.

Spurring 3 points, steel operations last week averaged 48 per cent of capacity, according to the magazine Steel, which also noted and encouraged broadening of the entire iron and steel market foundation.

Electric power production continued its rise for the third week. Output was 3.3 per cent ahead of the corresponding period a year ago, whereas the previous week's comparative gain was 2.2 per cent, and two weeks ago only 0.5 per cent.

Railway loading of revenue freight for the latest reportable week, May 20, stood at $31,618 cars, an increase of 623 cars over the previous week and 15,990 or 3.1 per cent over the same period of 1932. This was the second successive week to show an increase, after a decline in the week ended May 13 the improvement amounted to only 2.6 per cent.

Last week's automotive output, as estimated by General Motors, increased over the preceding period, thus interrupting an upward trend which had continued for nine successive weeks. Output was placed at 52,000 units, a decline of 9,301 from the previous week's volume.

Weekly mercantile reviews emphasize the indication that among the large department stores and specialty shops, May turnover will probably surpass the volume of May, 1932. Many of the large stores, it is reported, have achieved the best operating basis in at least two years.

The wholesale market last week enjoyed an activity close to the best of the year, it was estimated by Dun & Bradstreet, with both unit and dollar volume exceeding the comparative totals of 1932. Based on the robust expansion of present retail demand, the increased emphasis on raising wage scales, fall buying in wholesale markets, it is believed, may reach a volume comparable with that of 1930.

Shouldn't the Ideal Plan Be One Which Yields a Uniform Income?
The income from the usual types of investment fluctuates as interest rates change, as dividends are passed, increased or decreased, as bonds are called and new issues marketed. The income which may be fairly comfortable today may be badly shrunken tomorrow. Surely the ideal old-age income plan should be absolutely uniform in size, never changing this month, next month, ten years from now, as long as a man lives. The annuity income is guaranteed in the annuity contract. It is a definite income. Nothing is left to chance. The company absolutely guarantees to pay a certain amount every month as long as the annuitant lives. Compare this certain and steady income with the fluctuating and uncertain income from other investments.

Associated Gas & Electric Company

Your attention has been called by the Company to a "Plan of Rearrangement of Capitalization" proposed under date of May 15, 1933; in various recent notices the Company has urged the prompt deposit of debentures under such plan.

A preliminary study of the Company's plan has, it is felt, adequately revealed the plan's UNFAIRNESS to the debenture holders, in as much as they are called upon to make the only substantial sacrifices.

Holders of large amounts of debentures are now organizing a representative committee for the protection of the interests of all debenture holders.

It is expected that the complete list of names of members of the committee will be announced shortly, and that holders will be asked to deposit their debentures with the committee.

Until further announcement, holders of debentures are urged NOT to turn in their debentures for exchange under any one or combination of the exchange options proposed by the Company.

TARZAN THE APE MAN No. 55

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan, when consciousness returned to him after his injury in the avalanche, believed the bull ape standing over him was Kerkach, king of his childhood's ape-tribe. And that the she-ape, chattering to him, was none other than Kala, the foster-mother who had raised him.

Of the years of his young manhood since then, he remembered nothing. But Tarzan was content. Moreover he was thirsty and hungry. When these wants were satisfied, he joined the tribe's activities. Feeling thoroughly at ease, with all worry and regret erased from his mind, he went with them into the deep jungle.

Weeks later, Tarzan, now reverted to his early life's jungle habits, was accepted without question by the apes as one of themselves. True, before this happened there had been several bloody disputes. But Tarzan's strength and cunning soon made all dissenters let him alone.

Thus time went happily on for Tarzan, with no great disturbance until that morning when the breeze brought to his keen nostrils the scent of Taramangani—the scent of Parker's safari as it entered the jungle, searching for the ivory in the elephant's graveyard.
